This popup is built using only HTML and CSS!

This popup is built using only HTML and CSS, showcasing how powerful these two Technologies can be when combined creatively.

By structuring the modal with simple HTML elements and controlling its visibility through CSS selectors like :target or :checked, the Popup appears without the need for JavaScript.

CSS handles the styling, positioning, and even animations, allowing the popup to fade in, slide, or stick elegantly on the page.

This approach highlights the flexibility of CSS in creating interactive user experiences while keeping the code lightweight and easy to maintain.
